

LOOKING AT THE NEWS WITH COLONEL HUGH CLARK

The Metropolitan Police Commission of London, England, has just issued an edict forbidding a policeman's marrying during his five years of service. He will give up his training and discipline in some other way.

Mr. Hon. Macdonald's King does not think the C. C. F. has a snowball's chance of securing control of the House of Commons. No one can be sure of that but Mr. King on firmer ground when he says will not control the Senate and will therefore not be able to carry out its programme. He thinks that stage it will not care, and will be glad to have some body who can clean up the mess and carry out its programme.

Haywood Brown takes to tell those U. S. athletes who are fertile of excuses when they fail to win international competitions, and instances the case of the French athlete who attributed his defeat to the strong east wind. Mr. Brown makes the obvious comment that the east wind was blowing just as strong against the English competitor.

Voltaire in that famous paragraph where he said that the French shot an admiral to encourage the others' points out that Admiral Byng was shot because he did not attack the French ship which was only a short distance away. He makes a similar comment to that of Haywood Brown, viz., that the British fleet was exactly the same distance from the French fleet as the French fleet was from the British. The French admiral did not attack either but he was no shot "pour encourager les autres."

All the liquor Control Board report loss of revenues. Death of money is doing yeoman service to temperance and total abstinence.

Kidnapers have some mysterious love of finding out who the wealthy men are in the United States. We have it here that they haven't paid income taxes during the past three years.

Speculators in wheat and the trolley shares are betting that Uncle Sam is sure. At that it looks like a sure thing.

A boycott by a government of its own nations engaged in legitimate business is something new. That is what is going on in the United States under the National Recovery Administration. Employers of labor refuse to participate in the boycott of General Hugh S. Johnson are threatened with and subjected to boycott. The end may justify it but it is a drastic operation. So far as employers of labor are concerned it is voluntary with them, whether they accept or reject the codes, but what General Johnson says, you may do as you please but if you don't do what we please, we shall ask the people to boycott your goods.

Governments are engaged in boycotts before but they are against other countries. What are retaliatory tariffs, embargoes and anti-dumping legislation but a species of boycott? Britain boycotted the Free State because of its failure to pay land annuities and the Free State answers it with a boycott of English goods. But this action of General Johnson is entirely different. Acting for the government in calls upon the people to boycott the citizens of the United States who decline to carry out a voluntary proposal.

One effect of the act is to increase prices but that was one of its objects. We doubt, however, if an increase in the price of cotton was contemplated, but the coal operators announce an increase of cents a ton on anthracite and give N. R. A. (National Industrial Recovery Act) as the reason. If they did not have that reason they would find another. The coal industry always means an increase in prices. They can see full control after off and do not wait for the melancholy days of the frost is on the pumpkin and the foot is in the shoe.

LIBERALS WIN ELECTION IN NOVA SCOTIA

Halifax, Aug. 22.—The Liberal Opposition led by Angus L. Macdonald, Donald Taylor swept from power the Conservative government led for the past three years by Premier Harrington.

The Liberal victory ousted a Conservative administration which had held power since 1925, when Hon. E. J. B. Macdonald led the Conservatives to a 40 to 2 triumph.

With Premier Harrington, only two members of the Conservative government's executive council were returned. They were Percy C. Black, minister of highway, in Cumberland where the result was a split, and Hon. Joseph Macdonald in Cape Breton North.

A re-check of the election returns for Cape Breton East put Dr. Cameron, Government, in the lead over L. D. Currie, Opposition. The Conservative candidate was credited with 3642 votes, as against 3616 for Mr. Currie. This gave him only the Victoria seat in doubt, giving the Liberals 21 seats and the Conservatives eight pending final returns from Victoria.

Mr. Currie's victory in the Victoria seat was a surprise. He had been defeated in an early return, as the Halifax constituencies piled up impressive totals for the Liberals. This time the vote constituted the government failed to return a member. In 1925 when the government won 22 seats to 20 for the Opposition, it gave the Conservatives two seats.

Angus Macdonald, the Liberal leader achieved a personal victory in taking Halifax South from Mr. Murphy. The minister of health had been regarded as a virtually certain winner in this supposedly Conservative stronghold, but his support failed to measure up to the last analysis. Macdonald had never previously held a seat in the legislature.

Third party candidates were never a factor in today's balloting. All votes were for the Liberals and the Conservatives.

James B. MacLachlan, veteran radical in Cape Breton East, lost their deposits.

FEES AND INTEREST CHARGES MORE PRECIOUS THAN HUMAN LIFE

(By Bert Huffman)

So many of the hard luck stories that are so depressing, arise from a narrow place and attributed to unknown people that we often think if they are true, we should like to see them as instances of what it can do to a man.

But I wish to cite an instance of the brutality and cold bloodedness of the present system right here in Bow Valley municipality under our own very noses. Out of respect for the people involved I do not give their names but I can verify every statement I am about to make if anyone is really interested.

Some years ago a farmer residing in Bow Valley municipality died, leaving a wife and several children on a mortgaged farm. He named as his executor a well known trust company operating in Alberta.

Immediately after the farmer's death this trust company had a sale of the chattel property on the farm and took over the farm, leaving the widow and children in a state of utter destitution.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Kettenbach have as their company over the week end Mrs. and Mr. Gay of Calgary. Mr. Gay is head of the General Motors Products and Sales Co. of the United States.

Nurse K. Grunberg of the Bassano Hospital is the guest of Mrs. C. C. Wilson for the week. She is leaving for the States where she has accepted a position in her professional line.

Mr. and Mrs. Bradwell left on Thursday last with their girls and will visit in Calgary for a short time before returning to prepare for the fall term in school work.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard (the family are renewing acquaintances) are enjoying a little holiday with Orville Brenner.

SPORT NOTES

STAGING REAL COMEBACK

New York:—Manager Bill Terry of the New York Giants chatted recently at the Giants of news about Johnny Verge's amazing comeback. Memphis Bill is usually happy about his third baseman's brilliant play this season, because he took one of baseball's biggest gambles on Verge's arm when he was out. When New York falls and the Giants front office were selling Verge's seals after a disastrous 1932 season, Terry, still uncertain of holding his own job as successor to the great John McGraw, staked his reputation as a judge of men by insisting on keeping the chap from Alameda.

And Johnny's certainly coming through in a big way. Terry said in his soft southern drawl. He and Pepper Martin of the Cardinals are staging the two best comebacks of the season. Johnny boosted his batting average from .241 to .286. His excellent work at bat and his tight play in the infield have contributed greatly to our success. His work has been almost as important as catcher Gus Mancuso's success in bringing along the pitchers.

The reporter asked "And what is the secret of Johnny's comeback?" The smile disappeared from Terry's face. He gazed out of the window and sort of gulped. Oh, he just snapped out of his slump-like everybody else. Terry was telling a big white lie. One could tell what he was thinking about as he looked out of the window, because Verge's 1932 slump was one of the most pathetic affairs in baseball history.

In the spring of 1932 Verge breezed into the Giants' training camp at Los Angeles with a smile on his lips and a sparkle in his eyes. He was the father of a baby boy. He was fighting swell and ready for a big season. Johnny was particularly happy when the club went to Oakland for a series, because every night he went over to nearby Alameda to visit his wife and baby.

It happened on the night of April 2nd, just as the Giants were entertaining for their home game. The yellow slip brought to the station by a uniformed messenger boy notified Johnny that his baby had died of infantile paralysis. In time Verge rejoined the team. The championship season had started. The third baseman tried to play.

PROMISING FRISCO BATTER

San Francisco:—Joe de Maggio, 18 year old San Francisco, Santa outfielder, was halted in his consecutive game batting streak when he failed to hit safely in his 42nd contest. In five times at bat he grounded out and flied out twice each and was safe once on a fielder's choice.

De Maggio was within eight games of tying the record for organized baseball when he was stopped. The record of 49 straight contests was set in 1919 by Joe Whitt of the Wichita, Kas. West on League club.

BABINO NEARING END WITH YANKEES

New York:—The belief that Babe Ruth is playing his last season as a regular in the New York Yankees lineup gained strength recently while the big fellow was warming the bench for the second time this season because of a batting slump.

Because of his large salary, his 35 years, his dwindling batting average and his diminishing area of coverage in the outfield, George Herman Ruth probably would be one of the first to be affected by the shake up which is virtually certain to hit the Yanks if they fail to retain the American league pennant.

On the basis of present standings the Yanks have a good chance to finish second. Even if the Yanks win the pennant, there may be many changes during the off season.

The Babe was not benched by Manager Joe McCarthy as was expected at Detroit on June 25. Ruth requested McCarthy to let him rest, for a couple of days and try to snap out of his slump. In his last 29 times at bat in regulation games, the Babe connected in only seven hits.

SPEEDY WINNIEP SPRINTER

Harry Colman, whose flying feet carried him to the 100 yard Canadian championship, is to get his chance in the track and field meet in connection with the Canadian National exhibition at Toronto. Harry's trip east, also that of his trainer, has been made possible by the generosity of local Hebrew sportsmen. Unknown outside Winnipeg athletic circles until he went to Fort William, Harry Colman gained national prominence when he outspurred Hamilton's youthful Olympic star, Bert Pearson, to win the Canadian title. Many of the customers were inclined to view Colman's victory as just one of those things, and that he would carefully guard his honor for the next year. But the local boy is not built of that kind of stuff. He is only too anxious to hook up with Pearson and the other speed types under any conditions. Through the kindness of his Hebrew friends he will be able to travel in comfort, in marked contrast to his recent trip to Fort William.

The editor of a small town newspaper in Alberta had on his list of subscribers a Blackfoot Indian chief. Unlike many of the whites who subscribed to the paper, this chief was very prompt in paying his subscription, and the editor, thinking he could perhaps get a story which would remind the whites of their delinquency, asked the Indian for the reason for his promptness. He was rewarded by the following answer:

Huh! some day me die. Me has been heap good Indian, so me go to heaven. At Peter ask me, "You pay all your debts?" and look me up in Big Book. If he see that me no pay editor for paper, he say, Huh! You no can come in here till you pay for paper. Huh! me no want to run all over hell to find you to pay for the paper. Huh!

Porter—Excuse me, boss, but you is the first fellow that's been here who ain't carrying no samples.

FIREMAN SAVE MY CHILD

The safe blowers are again busy in Rockyford. On Wednesday night of last Thursday morning the safe of the International Harvesters Office owned by Mr. C. R. Wolf was blown in a vain attempt to get the money in the safe and besides the safe was already open with a ticket on front of it to say it was. Then something must have been amiss with the work of the blowers as they only removed the outer layer from the door. The mounted police are in charge of the case.

The young people enjoyed a very wonderful evening at the home of Mrs. A. Pugin on Tuesday August 15th when she entertained in honor of her daughters Eva and Lucy between their birthdays. An interesting contest occupied the early part of the evening and then the young people danced for the balance of the time. The Kenworthy orchestra supplied the music and Marjorie Prater assisted at the piano. Several vocal solos were rendered during the evening. At midnight a very delightful lunch was served by the hostess.

Mr. V. Chapman and daughter of Banff have been visitors in the district for a short time. They also took in the dance in the new hall at Tudor.

The Ladies Aid Society of the United Church held their annual bazaar in the basement of the church on Thursday evening, August 17th. The tables were decorated with delicate shaded sweet peas and fern and were laden with plates of roast corn, doughnuts and bread and butter and a very busy supper hour was spent. Although many were busy in the harvest fields to attend. The treasurer of the program committee.

Mrs. Dugan, had arranged a very appropriate entertainment which was conducted in the auditorium of the church. The vocal and piano solos and duets were well rendered as was also the readings. This was interspersed with community singing. This annual event has become a popular affair although it comes in a busy time of the season.

The harvest is in full swing all over the different districts and much of the early wheat is combined or headed. Many farmers have taken this way of harvesting the short grain this year. What is combined has proved slightly better than was expected although this is still a very light crop. The grade looks to be good.

We are glad to know that Mrs. Hudson's health has improved and that she is up and about again.

Mrs. Archie McElroy of Edinburg is at present visiting with her sister Mrs. Gibson.

Mrs. Carpenter has as her company this week her mother Mrs. Owens of Medicine Hat and her daughter and son in law. Mr. & Mrs. W. Allen of Nanaimo, B. C. are at present building some grand sites in the district.

Mrs. Chubb and Francis Morton of Calgary have been the guests of Mrs. Pugin and girls for the past week.

When Nash called the waters blue he had his troubles, some as you. For forty days he drove the ark. He found a place to park.

Mr. Pughmore—Well, good bye, I've got to consult my broker. Friend—Oh yes, Stock or pawn.

Pools try to convince a woman, but wise men try to persuade her.

What proof have we of miracle and a miracle.
Well, there are pedestrians.
Do you have a new son whose features he has?
Well, he has my eyes and his nose, but his voice—
I think he got that from my automoborn.
